France: reporting law and transposition differ

Instrument reference date: 2026-03-18 · entity applicability not established.

WHAT MATTERS

ESMA describes the EU Omnibus amendment as in force, while French guidance distinguishes national transposition.

WHY IT MATTERS

EU adoption, national effective rules and an entity's reporting wave are separate questions.

EVIDENCE & UNCERTAINTY

French guidance last checked texts on 2 September 2026; this is not a complete current-law or enterprise applicability determination.

NEXT ACTION

Check the current French implementing text, reporting wave and exact legal entity; do not apply proposed thresholds early.

France reuses the same industry structure; French market facts and enterprise footprint remain incomplete. Seller match is not demand. Location is not legal applicability. No Pipeline record is created.
