OPPORTUNITY DEVELOPMENT / READ-ONLY PREVIEW

Develop the opportunity.

Eight read-only decision lenses. Customer facts require an authorised workspace.

ESTIMATED TCV, ACV, FUNDED SPEND, NET BENEFIT, PRICING AND MARGIN

Financial opportunity

Opportunity deal value and allocated budget are Unknown. Public corporate investment is not supplier spend.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Request customer-owned outcome baseline, addressable spending scope and funding decision.

WHERE THE PROBLEM LIVES, ACCOUNTABLE BUSINESS LEADER AND DELIVERY OWNER

Business ownership

Actual organisational unit, outcome owner and named economic buyer are unverified. Procurement is not the business owner.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Identify business sponsor and the accountable executive who owns the outcome.

SPONSOR, ECONOMIC BUYER, TECHNICAL INFLUENCERS, BLOCKERS AND ACCESS

Stakeholder network

Inferred decision functions: AI transformation/value owner, Servicing business owner, Technology delivery and Group Sourcing. Roles are hypotheses; no verified named buyer, sponsor or relationship status.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Build a role-based stakeholder map and validate it through customer contact.

CUSTOMER PRIORITIES, MEASURABLE OUTCOMES AND INDIVIDUAL MOTIVATIONS

Hot buttons & outcomes

Potential business outcome: Reported use cases and claimed value do not establish net outcomes after adoption and control costs. Published business outcomes are context, not validated personal hot buttons.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Test the desired outcomes with the accountable stakeholders.

INCUMBENTS, INTERNAL DELIVERY, PLATFORM PARTNERS AND COMPETITOR POSITIONING

Competitors & alternatives

Envoy and Google Cloud are evidenced. Internal AI teams and existing partners may already cover delivery; prime integrators and workshare are unknown. Internal delivery, a platform partner or no purchase may be alternatives. No active competitive procurement is established.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Determine make/buy decision, partners, incumbency and competitive evaluation.

SERVICE SCOPE, DIFFERENTIATION, CAPABILITIES, DELIVERY OPTIONS AND PROOF

Proposed solution

Potential service: Connect one approved customer/colleague workflow to existing AI and operational systems; instrument net benefit, human exceptions and control cost. This is a hypothesis, not an approved requirement.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Define the smallest customer-validated work package and evidence of differentiation.

PREFERENCE CREATION, POSITIONING, PURSUIT DECISIONS AND WIN THEMES

Capture & win strategy

No customer-confirmed buying process or approved win strategy yet.

NEXT QUALIFICATION ACTION

Form a capture hypothesis after validating access and buying triggers.

What merits a conversation?

PROBLEM

Reported use cases and claimed value do not establish net outcomes after adoption and control costs.

WHY NOW

Reported use-case rollout; work packages/buyers unverified 2026 benefit expectation / 2027–2030 direction are context, not a buying window.

POTENTIAL SERVICE

Connect one approved customer/colleague workflow to existing AI and operational systems; instrument net benefit, human exceptions and control cost.

EVIDENCE STATE

Source-supported context; customer demand unverified.

BUYER ACCESS

Inferred functions; no named buyer or budget authority verified. Buying authority and access require customer validation.

POTENTIAL BUSINESS OUTCOME

Reported use cases and claimed value do not establish net outcomes after adoption and control costs.

TRIGGER AND COMPETING DELIVERY OPTIONS

Internal AI delivery and the disclosed Google Cloud collaboration are alternatives to an external services mandate.

EVIDENCE AGAINST THE COMMERCIAL INFERENCE

Existing internal delivery, retained counterevidence and unclear scope may remove any external service gap. No unfilled mandate is established.

NEXT CUSTOMER-VALIDATION QUESTION

Which deployed workflow has a customer-owned net-benefit baseline, risk owner and a delivery gap that existing teams/Google Cloud cannot cover?

AUTHORITY, ACCESS AND MONEY

Buyer authority/access: Unknown. Budget/value: Unknown. Procurement: Unknown. External service gap: Unverified.

01 / INVESTIGATE

Potential business problem / outcome

Reported use cases and claimed value do not establish net outcomes after adoption and control costs. Potential outcome: Use-case-level net benefit, adoption and control cost.

02 / INVESTIGATE

Why might the enterprise act?

Reported use-case rollout; work packages/buyers unverified 2026 benefit expectation / 2027–2030 direction are context, not a buying window.

05 / INVESTIGATE

Potential technology, consulting or managed service

Connect one approved customer/colleague workflow to existing AI and operational systems; instrument net benefit, human exceptions and control cost. Validate benefit baselines, service workflows, operational controls and measured adoption.

06 / INVESTIGATE

Possible stakeholders and decision-makers

Inferred functions; no named buyer or budget authority verified. AI transformation/value owner, Servicing business owner, Technology delivery and Group Sourcing. Verified buying authority: Not established

07 / INVESTIGATE

Supplier and competitive position — inspect scope/date

Envoy and Google Cloud are evidenced. Internal AI teams and existing partners may already cover delivery; prime integrators and workshare are unknown. Stop a standalone pitch if the existing platform/team already delivers the outcome. Do not replace the bank’s AI platform or sell assumed control gaps.

10 / INVESTIGATE

Next commercial action

Select one workflow, obtain the actual backlog and net-benefit baseline, and ask whether incremental external delivery capacity is wanted. Route to market: Sponsor-led discovery first. A platform-alliance or incumbent-prime route is conditional on that party accepting collaboration; seller partner status is unknown.
